The Holy Mountain Movement is as described in the previous article. Nevertheless, the follow-up maintenance and up keeping activities of Mountain Purification Program are actions that must be taken.

After a human being's birth, significant karmic hindrances always follow. Without debating whether with or without spiritual cultivation or embodied with extremely large amount of good karma, the life after a human being is born, there's no one who's not committing - daily - bad karma (or sins).

Adding the force of accumulated bad karma from prior incarnations to the course of human life, there naturally will be very many "gusts" and very many "down pours."

Occasionally enduring certain unfortunate events will ignite conflicts and clashes in our lives.

Human nature's reaction, whether displayed as happy or unhappy, felicity-filled or unfortunate, processes; if overwhelming, will affect the entire family, ignite mental instability; bankruptcies, lawsuits, murders...emerges one after another furiously.

In our universe there is a solidly unchanging Law of Cause-and-Effect. Routinely, every one of our personal ill-fated incident are all induced by our own bad karma, quietly exerting its influence.

The so-named “karma-elimination process,” besides enduring the attacks of evil karma, one must look for a method that “eliminates karma and dissolves misfortunes.” F

Following the ancient teachings of our great Immortals and Buddhas, the unchanging principle of karma elimination and dissolving misfortunes is the feasibility of using spiritual and/or material “giving of oneself” that also concur with justice and social good, to neutralize and eliminate the effects of evil karma.

Subsequently, big misfortunes turn into small ones and small misfortunes turn naught.

Now, the Taiwanese Divinities are the masters who turn the Dharmic Wheel that manages our Combined Karma; thus they are greatest wellspring of spiritual force in the celestial world.

As for the Holy Mountain Movement, which serves as
